Charles-Town, November 3.

THE parliament of Great Britain was, on the 5th of July last, prorogued to Thursday the 5th of August. The King (after having given the royal assent to, an Act for removing certain difficulties with respect to the more speedy and effectual manning the navy, for a limited time; an act for augmenting the militia; and a private bill) made the following Speech to both houses, viz.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

"THE many great and essential services you have rendered to me and your country, during the course of your attendance in parliament, demand my most cordial thanks.

"I have seen with entire approbation the zeal you have manifested for the support and prosecution of the just and necessary war in which I am engaged; nor am I less sensible of your attention to the present state of the kingdom of Ireland: My paternal affection for all my people makes me tenderly anxious the happiness and prosperity of every part of my dominions.

"Hitherto the events of war have afforded the court of France no reason to triumph on the consequences of their injurious and breach of public faith; and I trust, by a vigorous and present exertion of the force you have put into my hands, that ambitious power may, be brought to wish they had not without provocation, or cause of complaint, insulted the honour and invaded the rights of my crown.

"I have already acquainted you with the hostile step which has been lately taken by the Court of Spain. Whatever colour may be attempted to be put upon that unjust proceeding, I am conscious that I have nothing to reproach myself with: It was preceded by the clearest demonstrations of the loyalty and affection of my Parliament to my person and government, for which I repeat to you my warmest thanks; and I consider it as a happy omen of the success of my arms, that the increase of difficulties serves only to augment the courage and constancy of the nation, and to animate and unite my people in the defence of their country, and every thing that is dear to them.

"The advanced season of the year requires that I should afford you some recess from the public business; and I do it with the less reluctance, as by the powers vested in me by law, I can have the aid of your advice and assistance within fourteen days, should any emergency make it necessary for me to convene you before the usual time.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

"The various and extensive operations of the war have unavoidably occasioned uncommon expence, and additional burthens on my faithful and beloved people, which I most sincerely regret. I cannot sufficiently thank you for the chearfulness and public spirit with which the large supplies of the current year have been granted.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

"It is impossible to speak of the continuance of the REBELLION in North America without the deepest concern; but we have given such unquestionable proofs of our sincere disposition to put an end to those troubles that I must still hope, that the malignant designs of the enemies of Great-Britain cannot long prevail against the evident interests of those unhappy provinces, and that they will not blindly persist in preferring an unnatural and dangerous connection with a foreign power to peace, and re-union with their mother country. [From this paragraph may it not be fairly concluded, that a new bait has been thrown out, or some new piece of Machiavilian policy is practising, in respect to America?

The 9th of July, the following Proclamation was issued, shewing, that there were then some grounds for apprehensions of an invasion of Great-Britain, to wit,

BY THE KING.
A PROCLAMATION.

GEORGE R.

WHEREAS we have received intelligence, that preparations are making by our enemies, to invade this our kingdom, the safety and defence of which require our utmost care, and wherein by the assistance and blessing of God, we are resolved not to be wanting; and to the intent that they may not, in case of their landing, strengthen themselves by seizing the horses, oxen and cattle of our subjects, which may be useful to them for draught or burthen, or be easily supplied with provisions; We have thought fit and do by this our Royal Proclamation, by the advice of our Privy Council, strictly charge and command the Warden of the Cinque Ports, his Lieutenants, Deputy or Deputies, and all and every Lieutenants and Deputy Lieutenants of our Counties, and all Sheriffs, Justices of Peace, Mayors, Bailiffs, and all and every other officers and ministers, civil and military, within their respective counties, cities, towns, and divisions, that they cause the coasts to be carefully watched, and upon the first approach of the enemy, immediately to cause all horses, oxen and cattle, which may be fit for draught or burthen, and not actually employed in our service or in the defence of the country, and also (as far as may be practicable) all other cattle and provisions to be driven and removed to some place of security, and to such a distance from the place where the enemy shall attempt or appear to intend to land, so as that they may not fall into the hands or power of any of our enemies; wherein nevertheless it is our will and pleasure, that the respective owners thereof may suffer as little damage, loss or inconvenience, as may be consistent with the public safety: And we do hereby further strictly charge and command all our subjects to be aiding and assisting to the execution of this our Royal command.

Given at our Court at St. James's, the 9th day of July, 1779, in the 19th year of our reign."

Two vessels which left Amsterdam the 25th of July, and arrived at Boston the 19th and 21st of Sept. not only confirm the accounts we had received from Bilboa, Cadiz, Curacoa, St Eustatius, and Cape Francois, of the junction of Count d'Orvilliers fleet with that of Spain, but adds, that Sir Charles Hardy's fleet was actually blocked up, in Torbay, by 54 French and Spanish ships of the line (exactly the number mentioned in the account received from the Cape last week) who had a large body of forces with them.

The fleet which arrived at New York the 21st and 22d of September last, with Commodore Sir Andrew Snape Hammond, in the Roebuck man of war of 50 guns, (and was called in the Royal Gazettes, a second division with reinforcements) is said to be no more than a Cork fleet of 48 sail, without soldiers.

But it is certain, that a fleet of 17 sail of transports, under convoy of Admiral Arbuthnot in a 74 gun ship, did, with two sixty fours, sail down from New York 22d of September, to Sandy-Hook, destined for a southward expedition, and returned after being a week at the Hook——where they met with some intelligence, which rendered it advisable to postpone their design to a more favourable opportunity.

Eight Spanish ships of the line were hourly expected at Cape Nicol. Mole 3 weeks ago. And yesterday a sloop sailed from hence, said to have dispatches on board, for Havana.

Last Sunday his most Christian Majesty's frigate Iphigenie commanded by M de Kersaint, sailed upon a cruize. 'Tis remarkable, that during the time this ship was in port, tho' there were near 1000 foreign sailors here at once, no the smallest riot happened.

In the Virginia Gazette of Oct 9, we find advertised for sale on the 21st, by order of the Court of Admiralty, the schooner Success, burthen about 30 tons, which had sailed from South Carolina, the property of John M'Ginnis, and was captured on her return, with a cargo of 75 barrels of superfine brown sugar, by the Royal Charlotte privateer belonging to Messrs Goodrich and Shadden commanded by Robert White, but was carried into Virginia, by Abraham Meyrick, who was put on board a prize master.

Yesterday Evening arrived here from Philadelphia, Capt. William Pinder, late Master of the Sloop Henry of Port, who was taken on the 24th of August last, by the Privateer Ship General Pattison, Capt. Paton, of New-York. Capt. Pinder says, that the Treatment he met with from Capt Paton was humane and generous; but that he experienced the very Reverse from Commodore Sir George Collier, upon his Arrival at New York, where he was confined 5 Weeks on board a Prison Ship, in which the Prisoners were 3 Times a Week served with rank Oil and such Bread as a Sample of may be seen at the Printing-Office. He confirms the Accounts we before had, of an Embarkation of Troops having taken Place at New-York to conquer Carolina: and says they got Intelligence of Count d'Estaing's being in these Seas, by a Spanish Ship which had broke with the Fleet and been taken.

Another transport Vessel (a Brig) with a Hessian Lieutenant-Colonel, several other Officers, and 214 Privates, part of the Fleet that sailed from New-York the 9th of Sept. for Halifax, has been taken by Capt. Taylor in the Privateer Mars of Philadelphia, and sent into Egg Harbour.

No other Ship of War arrived at New-York, with the Reduck, but the Delight Sloop, and 2 armed East-Indiamen.

The 4th of last Month, Capt. Harrington in the Privateer Ship Pickering, sent into Philadelphia, a Cutter of 13 Guns, fitted out in Scotland, called the Royal George, Capt. Parker late Commander.

Postscript.

ABout the 19th of June last, Mr. Hartley moved in the British House of Commons, to bring in a Bill "to appoint Commissioners to treat with America," and prefixed the following Articles, as

Terms of Negociation.

1. That Commissioners be appointed to hear, consult and agree upon the final settlement and Pacification, of the present Troubles in America, upon safe, honourable and permanent Terms, subject to Ratification by Parliament.

2. That any of the aforesaid Commissioners may be impowered to agree, as a Preliminary to a suspension of all Hostilities by Sea and Land, for the certain Term of Ten Years.

The withdrawing of the British Forces was not proposed as a Preliminary, but was reserved as the first Article of the Negotiation. The Condition against which this should be set in Balance, on the other Side, to be, a stipulation for the Security of the Friends of the British Government [commonly called Tories] in America.

3. That any of the aforesaid Commissioners may be impowered to agree, as a second Preliminary, to suspend the Operation of any and all acts of Parliament, respecting America, during the Term of the Truce.

4 That a Truce for the aforesaid Term of Years be agreed to, and declared between Great-Britain and France.

5. The general Treaty shall be set on Foot for Negociation as soon as may be after signing the aforesaid Preliminaries.

6 That any Articles of the Negociation may take Effect, as soon as agreed to by, the Parties in the Course of the Negociation, without waiting for the final Conclusion of Treaty.

Some Observations and Reflections on the foregoing Articles, must be postponed till our next.

The first Subscription to this Gazette, ended the 24th of June last,—notwithstanding which, very few Gentlemen have called at the Office to pay a second.

ANY Person or Persons that will contract for the supplying the Continental troops in this State and Georgia, with strong substantial made shoes, caps and boots, are desired to send in their proposals to the Clothier General's Office, on Prioleau's wharf. ROBERT DILLON, Commiss. of Hides for the States of S. Carolina & Georgia.
